

Emma Bowen Foundation 2012 Scholars for America Challenge

Your Assignment:

Find a need, make a plan, implement it, and tell us about it.

Particularly in these tough economic times, there are so many people and organizations in our communities that could use a helping hand, some words of encouragement, some technical assistance, some marketing skills, or just a sense that someone cares.

Suggestions include: volunteer at a food bank or soup kitchen, work on a Habitat for Humanity project, donate your time at local Boys or Girls Club, visit a nursing home, collect clothes for the needy, have a car wash or bake sale and donate the funds to a favorite charity, create a video for Facebook about your charity, design a marketing piece for your favorite charity, produce a PSA for your favorite charity, mentor a high school student and encourage him/her to go to college (help them with applications) – the needs are endless!

To honor Emma Bowen and the unique opportunities you have been given, find a way to pay it forward.

A panel of independent media judges will review all submittals and select the best entrants for recognition at the 2012 Summer Conference and on the Foundation's web site. Donations from the Emma Bowen Foundation will be made to the winning entrants' charities. Criteria for selection will include creativity, commitment, the nature of the project and its impact on the community or group served.

Whatever you decide to do, you will find that you receive much more than you give!

We look forward to receiving your submittals. The deadline is January 31, 2012.

Good luck and make us proud!!!
